The State Proud of Norwich. Norwich is in luck this year. Cele-rations will crowd each other so fast bave to be content with Fourth of July, plain and noiseless if possible, Norwich will have fun with the Fourth, the 250th anniversary of the township, the 125th anniversary of the incorporation as a city and a visit from President Taft. That is opportunity enough for everybody to have joy rides and other diversions that go to make up a good time. And may the celebrations be all gladness, without an untoward thing to mar the pleasure. The state is proud of Norwich. She is a credit to the old commonwealth. We can all read her history with pride. Better yet, the present is good, and the future will be better. The Rose of New England is not living in the past. She is very much alive.—Bristol Press. have to be content with Fourth of July

Mr. Dorman is a man of considerable experience in the business and he proposes to give the public the best amusement ever seen in this vicinity. He will thoroughly renovate the Temple by removing all of the benches and putting opera chairs in their stend; build galleries around the house and install two fire escapes, one at either side of the building, and have two additional exits. The building will be newly re-dec-prated within and put into the best cossible shape, making Scenic Temple he most complete and up to date raudeville house of its size in eastern Connecticut. Mr. Dorman has secured three-year lease of the building and has a privilege of renewing it at its expiration.
